

Raw sheet stock ready for processing.

Panel Processing

From raw sheet stock to finished products, our facility was designed for the efficient processing of laminated and veneered panels. This includes work surfaces, cabinet components, shelving etc. Because of our capacity, the use of computers and microprocessors in the manufacturing equipment and our relationships with our suppliers, all size orders are handled quickly and efficiently.

Showroom

Our Showroom is constantly evolving, as new products and components are added or changed. A library of finishes and styles can be reviewed and compared. An array of ergonomic components, such as monitor supports, keyboard arms, under glass monitor supports and adjustable height tables, to name a few, are set up for hands-on comparisons. Casegoods and work surface details are all on display.

The Back.

“The Back”

Many of our Customer's Installers and Drivers are familiar with our Shipping, Receiving and Will Call areas in the back of the Santa Ana facility. It is also where the facility's central dust collection blower system is located. This is a state of the art, zero pollutant system.
